Cinaton

October 26, 2016

The K2005 touch-free swivel faucet by Cinaton packs a wealth of practicality into a stylish package. A 150-degree spout rotation gives this workhorse of a faucet uncommon flexibility and ease of use. With no handles to attract germs, the K2005 utilizes Cinaton's patented iSense technology that allows easy operation without touching the faucet. Five infrared sensors provide complete control more than 13 functions, from temperature to water flow.

The K2005 faucet features solid brass construction for durability. It has a chic, contemporary vibe and comes in a choice of two finishes – brushed nickel or polished nickel – with a PVD coating for long-lasting beauty. The K2005 also includes a “pause” function, three user-defined presets for added convenience, a maximum temperature setting to prevent an accidental scalding and a battery backup for continued use during a power outage. Its intermittent water flow and automatic shut-off combine for an eco-friendly design with up to 70 percent water savings. The K2005 was designed for a single-hole mount for a clean, uncluttered look. This faucet is ADA compliant and WaterSense certified.
